

MINIMIZE EXPOSURE TO HARMFUL PATHOGENS

The CDC recommends touch-free containers for managing hazardous waste. Containers should be placed near entrances and in common areas, including healthcare facility entrances, waiting rooms, and patient check-ins, as well as within patient rooms.

TIP

Two touch-free containers per patient room are recommended, one for general waste and another for hazardous waste.

- 1 Utilize red, leak-proof, puncture-resistant containers for medical waste.
- 2 Wear gloves when handling medical waste.
- 3 Avoid touching container contents when emptying.

HELPFUL HINT

Biohazardous waste receptacles that are not red must feature the universal biohazardous waste label. The label must be affixed securely to the container to prevent unintentional removal.

HOW TO EMPTY AND CLEAN STEP-ON CONTAINERS

- 1 Pull edges of liner bag together, fully closing the liner bag prior to removing from the container.
- 2 Secure liner bag with a knot and place in the appropriate collection bin.
- 3 Inspect the container inside and out for any visible soil or spillage. Remove visible soil using a microfiber cloth.
- 4 Wipe down the container with an EPA approved disinfectant, ensuring all critical touch areas are disinfected.
- 5 Insert a new liner bag.

HELPFUL HINTS

Wipe down the foot pedal, interior lid, exterior lid, and retainer bands when disinfecting.

Always keep contents of the liner bag at arm's distance away from your body.

If liner bag is torn, check the liner bag size or consider a heavier thickness.
