Introduction to Sintered Stone

Sintered Stone is the newest revelation in manufactured stone. It combines the benefits of granite and quartz, while avoiding the cons of both. Sintered Stone is a zero-maintenance product, will not scorch when exposed to high temperatures, and is 100% non-porous. The manufacturing process mimics the same process in which natural stones like granite and marble experience over thousands of years, reaching temperatures of 2000 degrees and pressure of up to 6000psi, but is done in the matter of hours!
